Students Are Finally Recognized

Odeline N. Utile

There are many students in the school, but only one could make it to be the student of the week. To be student of the week that person would have to stand out from all of the other students. Anyone can be student of the week, whether that person is, or is not in a magnet program at North Miami Beach Senior High School (NMB). Out of over 1,600 students, one student was finally chosen. The student who was chosen for this week is none other than David Dede.

David Dede is an 11th grader here at NMB. His 3D animation teacher, Mr. Luzardo, selected him to be this week's featured student in newspaper... "David is always the first person to finish an assignment and is very bright. He takes AP and honors classes and does great work. Not only is he an intelligent kid, but also he is a gentleman and is very well behaved," said Mr. Luzardo...

David is involved in the Raiders/JROTC. He spends an average of two hours on his homework assignments each day. On his free time, for fun David likes to play video games and exercise with friends. He thinks the school is great just the way it is and wouldn't change a thing about it. The three things that he values the most in life are loyalty, respect, and honor. He thinks that a good leader should have honor and should find the best in people and not try to put them down or set them up for failure. The activity that has been the most important to him in terms of personal growth is JROTC because he feels it is shaping him into a better leader for the future. In the next ten years or so David plans on going to college, finishing up his lawyer classes, going to law school, then later on becoming a lawyer for the military. What an extraordinary future he has planned ahead...

Now you know more about your fellow Charger. Who will be featured in next week's newspaper as student of the week? It may just be you. Just continue to work hard and continue to do the right thing. Lets Go Chargers!

Well, Chargers, the year has started

We are off to a great start. Our Fall Athletic teams are in full swing, so get out there and support your classmates. We had a great pep rally on 9/11/15 where we showed a ton of spirit. With that being said I am asking students to carry that enthusiasm over into the classroom and give maximum effort in all of your classes. Our class assemblies went very well and we distributed a lot of great information and resources for our students. Students if you still have questions about resources or need someone to answer questions please contact any adult here at NMB to help lead you to the right resource or person. I see great evidence that our push for CORE VALUES is being taken seriously. Remember this month's core value is Respect. These are not just words but values that we should practice daily. We will be at the end of the first 9 weeks before you know it, so, my advice to you is continue pushing hard daily to achieve your academic, attendance and behavioral goals. Consistency is the key to success so make it part of your success plan.

Your Principal

The Story Of Dr. Challenger.

By Malik Wiggins and Frantz Pierre

When she was an undergraduate student she did not want to be a teacher, but her Professor told her that he saw some potential in her. This is how Dr. Challenger became a teacher. Thereafter, she had four different degrees—including Biology, Marine Biology. She then taught at Miami Edison Senior High. She continued teaching there for twelve years, nine of those years she spent as a Biology teacher. As a teacher, they're a few specific skills that you need to be a good educator, such organization, being reliable and caring.

We, at North Miami Beach Senior High, were then blessed when Dr. Challenger arrived. She has been at North Miami Beach for four years. One of her driving forces are the students. Day in and day out, you can find her at school working—helping. Dr. Challenger instills all the values that should come to mind, whether you are a student, a teacher, or anyone for that matter. As long as you go to NMB, you should value each other by treating their peers with fairness and equity, communicating openness, trust and respect.

Dr. Challenger

A woman truly loved by all those at NMB High School, we thank you for your hard work.

104.3 The Shark takes a bite out of South Florida

By Melanie Mejia

Frustrated music junkies, fear no more! On the morning of August 21st, 2015, Entercom launched 104.3 The Shark, South Florida's newest and only alternative station. According to Doug Abernethy, vice president and market manager at Entercom South Florida, 104.3 The Shark will target an audience in the heaviest acquisition years of their lives and the station will be incredibly active in the South Florida community. Entercom has had huge success with hundreds of alternative stations all across the country, drawing on success to design 104.3 The Shark. This new radio station introduces an exciting new format that is quite unique in the market today. 104.3 The Shark plays both modern and mainstream alternative music, along with some classic alternative hits. According to John O'Connell, programmer of the new music station, a local research was conducted in South Florida that collected evidence that listeners wanted an active and modern alternative radio station in South Florida, that being the reason why The Shark was introduced...

The Shark plays some of the very best modern alternative music from artists such as Fall Out Boy, Imagine Dragons, George Ezra, and Bastille. They are also playing the best from older and more classic artists such as Coldplay, Red Hot Chili Peppers, and Nirvana.
